DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of Species 2, Claims 1, 3, 5, 6, 12 and 14 drawn to Fig. 3 in the reply filed on September 6, 2005 is acknowledged.
2. Accordingly, Claims 2, 4, 7-11, 13, 15 and 16 have been withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1, 3, 5, 6, 12 and 14 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 6,699,152 to Tanaka.

Regarding Claim 1, the Tanaka patent teaches an oscillating reduction gear 10 having an internal gear 21, external gears 19 that mesh with the internal gear 21, and eccentric members 17a and 17b that rotate to cause the external gears 19 to undergo oscillatory motion. See column 2, lines 45-49 and Fig. 1. An intermediate gear 30 has a large gear 30a that links the intermediate gear 30 with an input gear 25b and input shaft 25 at a right angle. The orthogonal gear as broadly recited in Claim 1 is defined as the large gear 30a in the Tanaka patent. The external gear oscillatingly rotates via the input shaft, the large gear, the middle shaft and the eccentric members. See column 5, lines 19-43, and column 6, lines 1-3 and Fig. 1.

Regarding Claim 3, an eccentric member shaft 17 is disposed apart from the intermediate gear 30. See Fig. 1.

Regarding Claim 5, a plurality of bearing use holes 12a are provided in the basal disc 12, and a plurality of bearing use holes 14a are provided in the end plate 14. The bearing use holes 12a and 14a are used to hold tapered roller bearings 18 that are used to hold eccentric member shafts 17. Accordingly, a plurality of eccentric member shafts 17 are taught by the Tanaka patent. The eccentric member shafts 17 have a transmission gear 33 which mesh with a small gear 30b connected to the intermediate gear 30. Accordingly, all of the eccentric member shaft 17 transmission gears 33 mesh with the small gear 30b. Column 2, lines 33-47, and column 3, lines 34-47 and Fig. 1.

Regarding Claim 6, the intermediate gear 30 has a hollow structure. See Fig. 1.

Regarding Claim 12, the supporting unit 11 can rotate to form an output member. The intermediate gear 30 is parallel to the output member. See column 6, lines 1-3 and Fig. 1.

Regarding Claim 14, the eccentric member portions 17a and 17b oscillatingly rotate the external gears 19 and the supporting unit 11 is a hollow shaft with a hollow diameter portion 34a.

Accordingly, all the elements of Claim 1 and those claims depending therefrom are anticipated by the Tanaka patent.

Facsimile Transmission

Submission of your response by facsimile transmission is encouraged. Group 3600's facsimile number is (571) 273-8300. Recognizing the fact that reducing cycle time in the processing and examination of patent applications will effectively increase a patent's term, it is to your benefit to submit responses by facsimile transmission whenever permissible. Such submission will place the response directly in our examining group's hands and will eliminate Post Office processing and delivery time as well as the PTO's mail room processing and delivery time. For a complete list of correspondence not permitted by facsimile transmission, see MPEP 502.01. In general, most responses and/or amendments not requiring a fee, as well as those requiring a fee but charging such fee to a deposit account, can be submitted by facsimile transmission. Responses requiring a fee which applicant is paying by check should not be submitting by facsimile transmission separately from the check.

Responses submitted by facsimile transmission should include a Certificate of Transmission (MPEP 512). The following is an example of the format the certification might take:

I hereby certify that this correspondence is being facsimile transmitted to the Patent and Trademark Office (Fax No. (571) 273-8300) on _____ (Date)

Typed or printed name of person signing this certificate:

(Signature)

If your response is submitted by facsimile transmission, you are hereby reminded that the original should be retained as evidence of authenticity (37 CFR 1.4 and MPEP 502.02). Please do not separately mail the original or another copy unless required by the Patent and Trademark Office. Submission of the original response or a follow-up copy of the response after your response has been transmitted by facsimile will only cause further unnecessary delays in the processing of your application; duplicate responses where fees are charged to a deposit account may result in those fees being charged twice.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Justin K. Holmes whose telephone number is (571) 272-5930. The examiner can normally be reached on 8:00am to 4:30pm Monday-Friday.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Charles A. Marmor can be reached on (571) 272-7095. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 571-273-8300.
